

Jazz & Sounds Festival in Ghent

24.01.2010 17:37 von jazz (Kommentare: 0)

New festival in Ghent (Belgium) from March 22nd until 28th 2010

Beginning in 2010, Gent Jazz Festival, De Bijloke Music Centre, Vooruit Arts Centre, University College Ghent - Faculty of Music and the University College Ghent-Faculty of Fine Arts (KASK) will work together in the annual initiative, the Jazz & Sounds Festival. This new festival will focus on the versatility of contemporary music. The first edition takes place from March 22 - 28, 2010. Improvisation and creation are important mainstays of the Jazz & Sounds Festival combining the interaction from and to jazz, contemporary, classical, alternative rock, electronic music, improvised music, non-western music and more. The festival offers not a linear but an organic whole of concerts each day, where several concerts and performances can coincide. Visitors will have to make choices within the programme or will be guided by the surprise of the moment. Tickets & info: www.jazzandsounds.com.

Die Jazznews der Jazzpages

Einen Kommentar schreiben